THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE L. NARASIMHA REDDY

W.P.NO.19977 OF 2005

ORDER:

The petitioner assails the action of the respondents 1 to 5 in appointing the 6th respondent, in their organization, on compassionate grounds. The petitioner pleads that she is the wife of J.Uppalaiah, who was employed as an Attender in the A.P.GENCO, and on his death, she alone was entitled to be considered for compassionate appointment, since they had no issues. The 6th respondent filed caveat. He has also filed counter affidavit, as well as several supporting documents.

Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for the respondents 1 to 5, and learned counsel for respondent No.6.

The petitioner asserts that during the life-time of her husband, he did not adopt any children, much less the 6th respondent, and in that view of the matter, the respondents 1 to 5 were not justified in appointing him as Attender.

A perusal of the counter affidavit as well as other documents filed by the 6th respondent discloses that he was adopted by late Uppalaiah, under a registered Adoption Deed, dated 22-01-1990. Further, he filed O.S.No.41 of 1995 in the Court of Junior Civil Judge, Yellandu, for the relief of partition and declaration, in respect of suit A,B and C schedule properties against the petitioner. The suit was ultimately compromised in the Lok Adalat, and a compromise decree was passed on 25-07-1998. One of the terms of the decree is that the petitioner consented for the 6th respondent being extended the benefit of compassionate appointment. It is, therefore, evident that the petitioner has suppressed vital facts from the Court and tried to mislead it. Hence, the writ petition is dismissed. There shall be no order as to costs.
